

Ron Byington

Junior Varsity Defensive Line Coach

Coach Byington is returning to the Naples Football program where he served as the varsity defensive line coach from 1998 to 2005 before his "real job" commitment conflicted with his coaching football. Ron has devoted many years of coaching youth football in Collier County. Prior to having the opportunity to coach at the high school level, Coach Byington had a tremendously successful run in the Pop Warner program as head coach of the Naples Gators where his teams won many conference and regional championships as well as a national championship in 1996. Coach Byington is entering his twenty-fifth year of service with the Collier County Sheriff's Office and currently serves as the Sergeant in charge of the Street Gang Unit
